

Minnesota Association of Professional
Soil Scientists:
2005 Winter Technical & Business
Meeting

Assorted Frontiers in Pollution Remediation and Soils Inventory

Friday, December 2, 2005
8:00 am – 4:30 pm

Best Western Kelly Inn, St. Cloud, Minnesota University B Room

Keeping current and viable in today's multidisciplinary environment involves study on many levels. Technical, historical, inter-personal, and economical considerations are all areas worthy of investigation. In order to be a sturdy link in the chain of society, it is beneficial to observe what is on either end.

The 2005 winter meeting attempts to weld historical events, current technological developments, standard training, and modern customer service ideologies together so that we might all be better professionals.
